

Shanna Larsen
1981-2005

"I'll be a teacher"

Shan always knew what she wanted to do with her life. Graduating from university with her Honours Visual Arts degree, Shanna was planning to attend teacher's college when she was diagnosed with breast cancer.

Now it is her spirit that continues to teach. Today we celebrate Shan's academic achievements and her joy in working with children.

Love Mom, Dad,
Kris and Andrew

breast cancer...not just a disease of older women

www.teamshan.ca

